

DAN LOW'S BIOGRAPHY

Dan Low, international consultant, author and corporate trainer, created a series of directly operational, unique tools combining Eastern and Western management strategies. His more than 30 years' field observation and experience, combined with 3 years' intensive research in 4 major European countries, has shown that the non-application of 4 concepts has caused trillions of dollars of yearly financial losses in companies worldwide and untold sufferings to billions of people.

He currently teaches these concepts, together with a series of highly performant, unique tools, to increase one's potential and corporate results, while eliminating stress.
