The Speaker

Member of Entrepreneurial Resources Group & Human Capital Institute

Dan Low, 64, international consultant and author, did his research in the 1970s and created a series of highly operational tools combining Western and Eastern management strategies. His seminars were initially attended by CEOs from multinationals before being extended to the general public and company personnel in 1993. Since then he has held more than 500 interactive sessions and given 150 conferences in Europe. Dan Low was formerly coordinator of the Management Group in an international networking association of professionals and alumni of major business schools. He also taught the techniques of advanced management at the French University Paris Nord. He intervened at UNESCO, and ARFEC for top and senior executives, and currently trains managers at all levels. His book "The Art of Self-Combat", initially published in France by Pearson Education, was re-edited by Lulu Enterprises Inc. under: "Maximize your potential with powerful tools... and no stress" – in French and in English. It was published in Japan by PHP Institute.
