

Join Us In Triggering One Billion Happy Faces!

Hi, and welcome to a unique group of brainstorming circles made up of professionals seeking ways to help make this a better world.

Our objective is to help trigger one billion happy faces through the tools and ideas we will be sharing with you.

For that purpose, you will have the opportunity to attend our on-line session at any date listed below. During this free 60-minute session, you will be able to ask whatever questions you have, and our panel of Coordinators who are experts in different disciplines of self-development will be there to guide you to find appropriate solutions. You will also be able to contact them directly.

Guy Cloutier

Let's invent and build together the world we want to live in! I have always placed the Human at the heart of my activities, as an inventor, entrepreneur, professional accountant, exporter, professor, author, consultant and international speaker.

How to prioritize the human being in the heart of each profession and sector of activity, in order to have the power to decide on one's own life? The diversity of my international experiences led me to create Zec World, this first worldwide Evolutionary Center focused on the human being, fully responsible and respectful of his environment.
